Paris, April 10 .- A dispatch from Oran

120 feet below the surface has been dis-

station in the midst of the Sahara desert.

The reservoir was discovered while a num-gives forth forty gallons of good clear water per minute, and it is expected that this amount can readily be increased should it be found that a larger quantity is neces-

The perbishops never declared against Parnell until Gladstone's letter was published, have led to the production of a note from Archbishop Logue to the administrator of the Armagh Diocese, dated four days prior to Giadstone's action, in which the Archbishop says: "I am horrified to see resolutions in support of Mr. Parnell supported by priests. I took it for granted that priests would not appear on the platform.
It is bad enough for lay Catholics to condone such rascality, but in priests, the grand gnardians of morality, it is intolerable." The late appearance of Archbishop Logue's declaration is explained as due to the fact that the administrator himself took part in the Parnell meeting which the Archbishop denounced.

ROYAL LABOR COMMISSION.

Gentlemen Who Will Inquire Into the Cause of Strikes in Great Britain,

LONDON, April 10 .- Mr. William Henry Smith, the First Lord of the Treasury, announced in the House of Commons to-day that the following gentlemen have been appointed by the Queen members of the Royal Labor Commission, which will inquire into the relations existing between capital and labor, and into the cause of strikes, and the best means of preventing them: The Marquis of Hartington and the Earl of Derby, Liberal Unionists: Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Conservative member of Andover, and Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster; Hon. Sir John E. Gorst, Conservative member for Chattman, and political secretary Liberal member for Brightside, Sheffield; Sir Robert N. Fowler, Conservative, one of the members for the City of London; Hon. Leonard Courtney, Liberal Unionist mem-ber for Modmin, Cornwall; Sir Edward J. Harlan, Conservative member for North Belfast; Mr. Joseph Cheney Bolton, Liberal member for Stirlingshire, Scotland, and chairman of the Caledonian railroad committee; William Gerald Balfour, Conservative member for Central Leeds; Mr. Jesse Collings, Liberal Unionist mem-ber for Bordesley, Birmingham; Mr. Thomas Burth, Liberal member for Morpeh; Mr. William Abraham, Liberal member for Rhonda, Wales; Professor Marshall; Sir W. Lewis, manager of the Bute docks at Cardiff; Mr. Ismay, one of the directors of the White Star Steamship Company: David Dale: George Livesey Tunstall, a prominet cotton manufacturer; Samuel Plimsoll; Mr. Madsley, an operative cotton-spinner; Thomas Mann, the labor agitator; Mr. E. Drew, secretary of the board of conciliation of the Iron and Steel road; Mr. Hewlett, manager of the Wigan Coal and Iron Company: Mr. Tait, chairman of the Glasgow Trade Council; Mr. Austin, secretary of the Irish Democratic Labor Federation, and Sir Frederick Pollock, editor of the Law Quarterly Review, and the when announcement of the composition of the Labor Commission had been made

Mr. Justin McCarthy moved to adjourn in order that he might call attention to what he said was a matter of urgent public importance—the omission of Mr. Michael Davitt's name from the list of those who composed the commission. Mr. McCarthy said that he wanted to know what the reasons were for omitting Mr. Davitt's name.

The Speaker, Sir Arthur Wellesley Peel, refused to allow the motion to be put in the House, declaring that it was supported by only twenty-eight members. Thereupon Mr. George Howell, Liberal, member for the Northeast division of Bethnal Green, gave notice that he would call attention to Mr. McCarthy's question, and would move a resolution to the same effect when a vote was taken upon the expenses of the com-

She Still Holds the Secretaryship of the Lady Board of Managers and Proposes to Keep It.

CHICAGO, April 10.-Miss Phebe Couzins, secretary of the board of lady managers, holds the fort at headquarters at the World's Columbian Commission. She declared herself, to-day, more than ever determined in her stand to assert her rights as secretary of the executive committee. She says she has received telegrams from many of the lady members of the commission taking sides with her. She desired it expressly stipulated in the public print that this unfortunate difference between herself and Mrs. Palmer is merely of principle, and not personal in any sense. She loves the lady president of the board.

From other sources it is learned that, for a long time, differences have existed between the president and the secretary. The lady secretary; it is said, has on several occasions refused to sign communications unless the pronoun "we" was used, referring, of course, to the president and herself. Mrs. Palmer, it is reported, has also stated to friends, talking of Miss Couzins: "I cannot quarrel with her, and can oply close the door in her face." This trouble is viewed rather seriously by certain world's fair officials. Should Miss Couzins make a legal fight through Ben Butler, whom she claims to have retained, it will seriously injure the influence for good of the board. Or should, as Miss Couzins also claims, the courts decide the executive committee and its powers to be illegal, thus nullifying its previous actions, the worry may be so great as to cause the resignation of many of the officials and practically diswith one foot in an open grave. Urged to That Course by Officers of the Mine-Workers' Organization-Part of the Militia to Be Withdrawn-Short-Lived Riot.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., April 10 .- It is now absolutely certain that the coke strike will be fought out to the bitter end. This was the unarimous decision of to-day's strikers' convertion, and it is ringing throughout portance and will undoubtedly tend to develop the caravan trade of El Golea, the region to-night. Seldom before has such general interest been taken in a convention. Crowds of strikers and cokers surrounded the K. of L. hall all afternoon to learn the outcome. The convention was of special character, and this morning when business was commenced fully eighty delegates answered to the roll-call. On account of its varied importance, every plant in the region had representatives. It was learned early in the day by the delegates that the feeling of the masses was for the continuation of the struggle, and subsequent events only carried it out.

Secretary Parker delivered his report, reviewing the situation at length and criticising the operators severely for their actions in the midnight attempt to destroy their organization by posting up the slid-ing scale. At this juncture of the meeting the national officers—President Rae, Secretary McBride, John Nugent, John H. Jones, State president of the Ohio miners, and M. G. Goering, president of the Illinois miners-were admitted. They were received in a cordial manner by the delegates, who explained to them the situation.

The afternoon was spent in executive session, and the proceedings were carefully guarded. The reports from the various points were heard, which were a unity of sentiment to remain out until the operators seek a settlement with them. Following this, the convention was addressed by several prominent foreign leaders. National President Rae touched on the eight-hour day, and said all the other miners in the United States would be with the cokeregion strikers on the 1st of May in this movement, and then it would be regarded a national fight, instead of a local one. He also assured them all possible financial sup-

Labor bodies are holding an important conference at the Scottdale House to-night. At a massmeeting at Morgan's resolutions were passed demanding a legislative investigation of the Morewood works. It is stated to-night that strong efforts will be made to start the Calumet coke plant on the Sewickly branch with non-unionists. Pinkerton detectives are on their way there. They will be equipped with Winchesters.

Late to-night the strikers are holding ubilation meetings over the announcement hat Governor Pattison has ordered the Eighteenth Regiment home to-morrow morning. The Tenth Regiment will remain but for a few days, it is stated. The withdrawal of the troops is a pleasing omen to the strikers that peace reigns here for good, and the State is disposed to look rather on their side of the Morewood killing than to believe the first reports of rioters' outrages preceding the shooting. TRAGEDY IN A STAVE CAMP.

Fight Over Whisky Results in the Killing of Two Men and the Injury of Others.

NEWPORT, Ark., April 10 .- News of a bloody affray, near the junction of Black and Current rivers, has just reached here. Eight men indulged in a free fight, two being killed and two more probably fatally wounded. The fight took place a stave camp belonging to the Oxley Stave Company. A jug was the bone of contention. Steve Ross, the foreman, and a man named Anderson had some words about the division of the whisky. Anderson pulled a long knife and cut Ross in the left arm and right shoulder. Ross seized his gun, but before he could use it Anderson had buried his knife several times in the bodies of four other men, one of these being R. J. Moore, who was stabbed through the heart and died instantly. inally Ross succeeded in getting his gun to work and sent a ball into Anderson's body, which passed through his heart and out on the left side. He made an attempt to reach Ross with his knife, but fell dead in the attempt. Two other men are very low and not expected to recover. Anderson, who, it is said, came from Kentucky, had the reputation of being a desperado. It is thought that he was wanted in that State for a couple of murders.

LESSONS TAUGHT BY GREELEY.

[Concluded from First Page.] are as genuine as Horace Greeley's. The fame of an editor is, indeed, like that of an artist or a singer. His voice is heard for a moment and then seems to be forgotten. But in that it is like the voice of other commanding generals of great armies; it says with Blucher, 'Forward, gentlemen;' or with Wellington, 'Up guards and at them,' or with Grant, 'I propose to move upon your works immediately.' The words are spoken. The voice is silent, but it is swallowed up in victory. But among the voices that marshaled the triumphant advance of the United States, the voice of Horace Greeley shall not be forgotten."
In conclusion Mr. Curtis said: "To you, fellow-soldiers of the Tribune, I say, that the power of the press is the measure of its responsibility; every man who is enrolled in its service is bound in honor by the solemn charge that consecrated the knights of old. I do not always keep step to the music. I like to think that we both march in tune with Abraham Lincoln's sublime battle cry in the good fight for American peace and progress: 'With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right.'" Among the letters sent was this from President Harrison: "The paper has been a potent influence in more than one important crisis in our public history." There were others from Senators Sherman, Edmunds and Washburne; from J. G. Whittier, Attorney-general Miller, and James Parton and T. V. Powderly.

The Tribune will, to-morrow, present each reader with a fac-simile copy of the paper's first issue.

Plan to Build a Railroad through Kansas, to Be Operated by the State.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 10.-Since the been done, but the most unique and daring plan that has yet been evolved by that body is a reported scheme to build a trunk railroad line across the State. It is expected that this proposition will be made the issue of the next political fight in Kansas by the Alliance. The plan is for the State government to construct a trunk line about 250 or 300 miles in length, and for the counties to build a net-work of branches that will touch every important point in the State. It is said that the right-of-way privileges would be donated in every in-

Frank McGrath, president of the Kansas Alliance, was in the city to-day. When asked about the plan he was very reticent, but admitted that such a scheme was under consideration by the Alliance. Several railway men were interviewed concerning the farmers' scheme. Mr. E. C. Gay, general freight agent of the Santa Fe road, said: "The State would have to guarantee the payment for the first four or five years interest on bonds of this kind, for the reason that the railroad companies would make a determined fight and no road in the State would make any money, for the reason that rates would be cut to the lowest possible notch. In the end, though, the companies would be bankrupted and driven out of the field." Mr. Gav did not believe the plan would ever be consummated, and all the other railroad men regarded it as wholly impracticable and visionary.

St. PAUL, Minn., April 10 .- The McHale anti-tights bill, which passed the Senate, is now in the hands of the House judiciary committee, having been referred to that committee after it had been considered by the committee on education, and such reference recommended by the latter committee. This week the extravaganza, the "Crystal Slipper," is playing to crowded houses at the Metropolitan Opera-house in this city, and to-day Preston B. Clark and manager L. N. Scott, of that theater. extended an invitation to the members of the House of Representatives to attend the performance to-night. The invitation was promptly accepted, and nearly every member at once selected his seat, and to-night they attended the performance in full force. Out of the !14 members over one hundred were present to study the question of "tights" versus skirts on the stage, before voting on the McHale bill. In order to allow them time to attend, at 6 o'clock a recess was taken till 11:30 to-night, instead of the usual 7:30.

Canvass of Chicago's Election Returns Again Postponed-Harrison Not Out of Politics. CHICAGO, April 10 .- The election commissioners met at 2 o'clock this afternoon to commence the official canvass of the vote cast in Tuesday's election, but owing to the illness of the city attorney an adjournment was taken till 10 o'clock to-morrow morn ing. Both Republicans and Democrats continue to charge each other with fraud in a more or less definite way. The former charge the latter with holding back returns for the purpose of changing them so as to give Cregier a majority, while the Democrats charge the Republicans with having "juggled" the returns in certain precincts by counting votes cast for Elmer Washburn as Hempstead Washburne votes. The Republicans also accuse the Democrats of a scheme to secure an apparent majority for Cregier before the election board, with a view to precipitating a contest in the courts, where delay can be had, Cregier in the meantime holding the office until the two years provided as the term of office shall have expired. Col. James W. Nye, chairman of the Reoublican campaign committee, accompanied by State's Attorney Longenecker, appeared in Judge Tathill's court at noon to-day and applied for a bench warrant for the arrest of Dennis Sheehan, a Democratic judge of election, who is said to have broken open the ballot-boxes in the twentieth precinct of the Nineteenth ward, after the polls were closed on election day. Judge Tuthill at once signed the warrant, and it was given to the deputy sheriff to serve.

Ex-Mayor Harrison, who ran as an independent Democratic candidate in opposition to Cregier, has joined forces with the Republicans in the fight against Cregier before the election board. He appeared in the office of the board this morning and displayed all of his old-time fire and vigor. He declared that it was his wish, above all things, to have the charges of fraud fer-reted out. He declared that he was prepared to subscribe $10,000 to a fund for that purpose, and that he knew prominent business men who would raise an additional $50,000. When asked whether he was about to leave the city, he cried: "No, sir; I am in politics, and I am going to remain in this city for two years more. I am in politics."

It seems now that ex-Mayor Harrison and his friends have come to the conclusion that he has a chance in the contest for Farmers' Alliance has taken hold of affairs | the mayoralty. Adolph Kraus, manin Kansas many surprising things have ager of Mr. Harrison's campaign, many votes cast for his candidate were improperly set down. At a meeting, this evening, of the Personal Rights League, the organization which supported Mr. Harrison's candidacy, it was resolved to raise a fund to prosecute all persons found guilty of wrong-doing at the election, and it was further decided to call a mass-meeting of citizens to take action in the matter. Outrageous Democratic Scheme at St. Louis,

St. Louis, April 10.-As the result of Tuesday's election the Republican party in St. Louis is now debarred of representation at the polls and will be ignored in the selection of judges and clerks at the next election. Under the new Australian ballot law a party failing to secure one-third of the total vote cast is debarred from all privileges and representation. In Tuesday's election the Democrats and municipal Inde pendents polled the main vote, the Republicans casting only 10,000, a quarter of the total number. Recorder of Votes Carliste says he will recognize the independent movement as a distinct political party, and accept its nominations in the same manner as those of the other parties if it cares to place a ticket before the voters at the next election. In this case he says he will di-vide the judges and clerks equally between the Democrats and Independents and throw the Republicans out of every precinct.

Republicans Win Again. PROVIDENCE, R. L. April 10-At the bye election to-day for a Senator and twelve Representatives the Republicans elected all their candidates. The Republicans have a large majority in both houses.

Business Embarrassments.

PITTSBURG, April 10.—J. M. Schoonmaker was yesterday appointed by Judge Reed, of the United States District Court, as receiver of the Columbia Iron and Steel Company, with directions to file a bond in the sum of $100,000. He was directed to take' charge of the company's property and all other parties were enjoined from any interference in the matter, which prevents assignee O'Brien from acting.

LANCASTER, Pa., April 10.—Baumgardner, Eberman & Co., coal and lumber dealers of this city, have made an assignment. Liabilities will be several hundred thousand dollars. Edwin Eberman, of the firm, assigned on Monday, with liabilities of $400,- Losses by Fire.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal, MUNCIE, April 10.-To-day fire destroyed a building owned and occupied by O. W. Crabbs, hay and grain merchant. Loss, $600, with $200 insurance in the Reading Fire Insurance Company. Kelley, Maus & Co., bent-wood-dealers, of Chicago, occupied a part of the building, in which they had $4,000 worth of stock stored. Fully covered by insurance.

CINCINNATI, April 10.—It turns out that the loss at the stockyards fire last night was greatly exaggerated. It is now estimated that it will not exceed $40,000. The insurance amply covers it. The managers say the fire will not suspend their business.

Negro Killed by Officers. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 10.—Charlie Bagsby, the negro who killed officer Wood at Blocton a few days since, was shot and killed by a posse at John's Station this morning. Several officers learned that the murderer was conceated in a negro house near John's, and, going there, demanded his surrender. Instead, as in the former instance, Bagsby opened fire with two pistols. Deputy John Sanders fell, painfully wounded and Bagsby broke out of the rear door of the house and ran. Before he had gone many steps the crowd opened fire on him, and he fell with fully twenty bullet holes in his body. Death was instantaneous. Children Poisoned.

GREENSBURG, Pa., April 10.—Three children of David Carroll died suddenly early this week under suspicious circumstances. An inquest was held, when it was discovered poison had been given them. Two other children are at the point of death and arrests will probably follow. Carroll has only been married a few months to the mother of his children.

DUBOIS, Pa., April 10.-Several children were poisoned here by eating wild parsnips. Some dozen or more children had been playing on a vacant lot and found the roots and ate them in mistake for the true vegetable. Two of August Weigelman's and one of J. M. Boringer's children have died in terrible convulsions, and several are suffering from poison.

Promise and Performance. Stenben Republican.

The new tax law passed by the last Legislature is creating a stir over the State among property-owners and tax-payers generally. Should the law be carried out according to its provisions and no change be made in county and township levies, the increase in taxes will be extremely oppressive. The same Legislature which made this tax law created eight new State offices and over one hundred county offices with good salaries, all to be paid by the people who bear the burden of taxation. And this was the Legislature which promised the people retrenchment and reform.

REBEL PRISONERS AT CAMP MORTON The Editor of the Century Magazine Explains an Inaccuracy. To the Editor of the New York Sun:

There is an error in the conversation with Dr. John A. Wyeth, reported in the Sun of yesterday, which we assume is due to a mis-understanding on the part of the reporter of what Dr. Wyeth said, since the latter could not have labored under a mistake as to the facts. We refer to his defense of his article in the April Century on the experience of confederate prisoners at Camp Morton, near Indianapolis, in which he is made to say:

"The editors of the Century Magazine investigated my figures before they published the article. They found that I was absolutely right; that I had been no more moderate than the facts would have justified. I confined myself to my personal experiences," etc. These words, of course, do not relate to Dr. Wyeth's "personal experiences," which we could have no direct means of verifying. though the reader might infer from the context that such had been the case. We printed Dr. Wyeth's article on account of our confidence in his good faith. We did investigate the few figures at the end of his article relating to the mortality at Camp Morton, and making a comparison between the mortality of Northern and Southern prisons. But the data we obtained from the war records office (and which was accepted by Dr. Wyeth, in hen of his information, obtained, all or in part, from a pewspaper article) showed that he was right as to the number of deaths at Camp Morton, but that he was wrong as to the percentage of mortality, which he, however, corrected, so that it was properly given as 14.6. The percentage of deaths in Northern prisons was shown by the corrected figures accepted by Dr. Wyeth to be 11.7, against 15.8 in Southern prisons. According to the revised records in the war-records office, out of 196,713 Union prisoners confined at the South 80,212 died in captivity, and at the North, out of 227,570 confederates confined 26,774 died. We have printed accounts by Union soldiers, written from their point of view, of their experience in Southern prisons; it has seemed to us proper and desirable, for historical purposes, to print accounts by reputable Southern soldiers of life in Northern prisons, as seen and felt by themselves. The lot of the war prisoner cannot be enviable in any clime or country, nor can it be doubted that it always appears more unhappy to him than to his captors and guards. Yours sincerely,

EDITOR CENTURY MAGAZINE.

To the editor of the New York Sun-Allow me to make a slight correction in the report of your journal yesterday in regard to my article in the Century Magazine for April concerning prison life in Camp Morton. In the article I stated that the prisoners were well cared for when sick in the prison hospital. In saying "the sick were allowed to die of trifling ailments," your reporter misunderstood me. Yours truly, JOHN A. WYETH, M. D. 294 MADISON AVENUE, April 7.

Signs of the Times.

Philadelphia Press. This remarkable series of victories the Republicans have scored in the elections in three Western States this week cannot fall to inspire the party with renewed courage and vigor. Such unbroken success has rarely attended its efforts in these neighborhoods in the spring, when it is especially difficult to get out the Republican vote. The widespread character of these victories and their emphatic nature make them more than usually important. It is not possible to mistake the verdict they render, or to fail to see how it must disconcert many nicely-laid plans of the Democrate. There is just one way for the Republicans to make this turn in the political tide, the signs of which are evident in New York State and New England, as well as in the West, permanent and decisive, and that is to show clearly and conclusively that the Republican party is worthy of this renewed confidence of the people
